Papworth Trust Day Opportunities offer:

- a wide-range of sessions to encourage learning, develop life skills, improve confidence and communication skills, and facilitate good health and wellbeing
- a dedicated Caseworker who will work with individuals to create a support plan to help them to achieve their goals and aspirations
- a co-produced, person-centred service, whether an individual simply wishes to make friends, learn new skills, or they would like to work towards volunteering or becoming work-ready

Routeways to Work is a year-long training programme offered by OWL Bikes at Papworth Trust. It offers hands-on training to individuals who are 16+ with ASD and mild to moderate learning disabilities at our Cambridge-based workshop for two half-day sessions per week. Participants learn how to repair and build bicycles as well as selling bikes in our showroom.

Along with expert trainers, the Employment and Well Being Advisor delivers a 1:1 programme to encourage and develop participants to think about employment as a future option.
